TAXI DRIVER SKIPS TO AVOID GOING INTO COURT

Frank Johnson, Charged with Habitual Speeding and Recklessness, Gives up Job and Leaves Town.

Rather than face a charge of reckless driving, according to the police, Frank Johnson, a taxi chauffeur, skipped town Saturday.

Johnson was cited by Captain O'Grady Friday night. According to the captain's report, Johnson was speeding along the street at a thirty or thirty-five mile rate, cutting in front of other vehicles and narrowly missing a smashup with a buggy. He made a practice of running his taxi taxi way, O'Grady reported.

Johnson failed to appear for a hearing Saturday morning, and Chief McMillin sent a word to get him. The police round that Johnson gave up his place with a taxi man and got out of town.
